- Explanation:
- Driver’s Points: The number of points Max Verstappen scored each season.
 - Team Points: The sum of both Verstappen and his teammate’s points.
 - Season Points: The total points earned by all drivers in the season.
 - Performance Score: A metric that measures Verstappen’s individual performance relative to his teammate and the overall season.

2. Lewis Hamilton’s Year-by-Year Performance Breakdown

- Explanation:
- Performance Score is calculated the same way as Verstappen’s, but Lewis Hamilton’s higher consistency and impact on the team’s success are also reflected.

3. Michael Schumacher’s Year-by-Year Performance Breakdown

4. Ayrton Senna’s Year-by-Year Performance Breakdown

Overall Comparison Table

Final Insights

- Verstappen’s Peak: His 2023 score (0.96) is the highest ever, surpassing Schumacher’s 2002 (0.89) and Hamilton’s 2018 (0.94).
- Senna vs. Prost: Senna edged Prost in raw speed (avg. 0.77 vs. 0.75), but Prost’s tactical consistency won titles.
- Schumacher’s Comeback: His Mercedes years (2010–2012) dragged his average down, but Ferrari dominance (2000–2004) remains iconic.
